Notes

Casting Quality

The casting quality in terms of capturing everyone's favorite Discord emote in its complete likeness is extremely well done here. On top of no bleeding or smudging between harsh color transitions, this cap has cleanly defined transitions between points of interest that really make for an extremely clean to read cap.

Complexity

While certainly not the most complex of designs, the implementation of a glassy, smoothed set of eyes into an otherwise rougher textured cap does give a bit of a benefit to Peepo's complexity.

Texturing

Quite frankly, the texturing on this cap is by far its best quality. While the heart and lips do blend together a little bit, there's clearly a massive texture differentiation between the eyes and the rest of the cap, as well as some sculpt based texturing that help livens the sculpt up a bit.

Stem Fit/Butt

With a tiny set of circular designs on the underside of the keycap, the Stem Fit/Butt points are mostly derived from the snug, firm, and still easily manageable tightness of the stem. The fit is definitely a great point worth noting on this cap.

Other

Not every artisan needs to go out and be a GAF killer, or the next 1/1 Brobot in terms of rarity and sale price. Snugg perfectly captures a more lighthearted, meme-y side of the otherwise most over serious crowd within the mechanical keyboard scene. And to top it all off, he did it with a good ol' fashioned :peepolovekey:.
